FAQ's About RISI

Why do you need to do this training?

The Rail Industry Safety Induction aims to establish a national approach to competency management for those working in rail. The rail safety worker program meets regulatory requirement and complies with national rail safety law.

You must have completed your RISI before entering the rail corridor to work.

Medical Requirements

The medical criteria for RISI is successful completion of a Category 3 Health Assessment (hearing, vision, mobility) and drug and alcohol screening (breath & urine analysis). The medical assessment must be conducted by a Transport for NSW authorised medical practitioner.

For your convenience, we can offer on-site medicals at either training location.

What happens after you successfully complete the RISI course and Cat 3 Medical with Train Me RTO?

1. Your Statement of Attainment and a copy of your medical report will be sent to you, if you are a sole trader, or the company if you aren't a sole trader, by Train Me RTO within 3-7 working days.
2. You (if you are a sole trader and have your own ABN number) or your company then need to organise to have a RIW Card issued. Follow the steps below to achieve this:
 - a) Go to www.railindustryworker.com.au and click on 'register now' and register company details. Once registered, your company will receive a login. A profile can then be created for you.
 - b) Once an individual is registered, a copy of your Statement of Attainment and medical report can be uploaded against your profile. The files should be in PDF or JPG format. The card will not be issued until all the steps, including mandatory file uploads, have been completed.
 - c) Payment for your Rail Industry Worker ($110.00) card can be made online using Visa or MasterCard. This payment is made by your company or you, if you are a sole trader. Alternatively, with prior approval, accounts can be established for larger organisations. After payment has been made an individual booking form for you will be emailed to the company.
 - d) The employee must take the booking form and 100 points of identification to an Australia Post outlet. Australia Post will confirm their personal details and take a photo for the Rail Industry Worker card. It must be a full Australia Post outlet, not an agency. The link to find a post office is: <http://apps.nowwhere.com.au/austpost/postofficelocator/default.aspx?service=Pegasus>
 - e) Providing all evidence has been uploaded and complies with the relevant business rules, the Rail Industry Worker card will be mailed within 48 hours. All cards will be delivered via Australia Post Registered Post. A unique
